Meet Tim Dockery!

I have been in the mortgage lending industry since 1989, so for over 30 years I have worked with many builders. But none that take such great care of their customers and have the follow through on their excellent product they build as well as on their word like Blackburn Homes! I am very proud to work with such a great company as their integrity and professionalism is like no other builder I have ever worked with my entire career.

I have been lucky enough to have worked with Blackburn Homes for over 5 years as their trusted lender. It is my integrity and high level of customer service that has strengthened our relationship as my motto of "Lender for Life" has been my core foundation while working with my clients. And now with HFG's products and excellent pricing, we can only have an even stronger bond leading to a bright future with what we offer our client's together.

We look forward to hearing and working with you on your exciting and fulfilling dream of homeownership!
